

“To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven:” Ecclesiastes 3:1

Many do not know what season or time they are in, yet we are to redeem the time that we have. As Christians, we are to use our time wisely in all the things we are involved in. I would encourage those who are young to stay the course God has for you until you are guided to move in another direction. Those who are at the end of their life have other things that take up their time, such as family, health, and building a legacy. I must confess that I am one of those at the end of my life. It is hard to believe that this year, I am to be 69 years old.

What can I say at this time but that even at this age, there is a purpose under heaven. The season has come for me to finish other projects before the Lord comes or takes me home. Therefore, I am resigning from writing for the Daily in His Love Post. It has been six years since Daily in His Love started. These last six years have flown by quickly, yet I hold onto the word of the Lord, gaining insight and understanding. We do not always understand why or what is happening around us. But the Lord reminds us of the following scripture.

See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools but as wise, redeeming the time, because the days are evil. Ephesians 5:15-16

Walk circumspectly and redeem the time that you have as you sojourn here on earth. This is good advice at any age. I would like to thank the readers for their support, and I pray that this site has been a blessing to you. I encourage you to stay in the word and still access the site while it is available. There are over 150 posts listed, covering various topics to read. Please come back often to read our posts.

I will be releasing a single praise song titled “Holy Is He - Psalms 99” soon. Visited Inge Schultz Music for more information. May God bless you all.
